

DANIEL VELÁSQUEZ ITURRATE

SOFTWARE DEVELOPER

velasqueziturrate@gmail.com

+584241400496/+5821224277

January 1, 2021

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to you in order to make myself available to your company and apply for one of the vacancies on the developer team, if any.

I am a Systems Engineer graduated from the Metropolitan University, Caracas, Venezuela, I have one year of work experience as a Front End software developer and I am open to learning in any area in which I am needed, committed to the progress of the company , with which I feel very identified.

I think my skill set perfectly adapts to the requirements of the company, because I handle the main Front End frameworks in trend, I have experience in team website development through agile methodologies, I manage a level of English intermediate and I am a persistent and responsible person who can be trusted.

I have plans to move to Madrid, Spain, in a few months, so I would love to work with you remotely, gain experience and later evaluate a possible transfer to your headquarters to work in person. I would appreciate the opportunity to meet with you online to discuss my potential contributions to your company.

Sincerely,

Daniel Velásquez Iturrate

Software Developer

For more information, visit:

<https://portfolio-daniel-velasquez.web.app/>